

UNTITLED SPACE

The Untitled Space Presents
Fahren Feingold Ethereal Legacy
Benefit Art Auction
In Partnership with Colorectal Cancer Alliance

Bidding Live: June 20 – June 30, 2024
Preview Auction Lots from June 19, 2024
Untitled-space.art

The Untitled Space is proud to present "Fahren Feingold Ethereal Legacy," a benefit art auction featuring paintings by the celebrated artist Fahren Feingold in partnership with the Colorectal Cancer Alliance, a non-profit dedicated to ending colorectal cancer. The auction will showcase 80 unique watercolor paintings, including several new releases from the artist's estate. An online preview of the auction lots will be available starting 12 PM EST, June 19, 2024, with bidding live from June 20, 2024, 12 PM EST through June 30, 2024, 6 PM EST on untitled-space.art.

Proceeds from each artwork sold in the auction will be donated to the Colorectal Cancer Alliance in light of her untimely death from colon cancer in September 2023 at the age of 43. The benefit auction features a vibrant collection of works on paper and panel by Feingold, who was renowned for her ethereal feminine watercolor paintings. Through fluid brushstrokes and her signature wet-on-wet technique, Feingold's art emphasizes the female gaze, celebrating the beauty and complexity of the female form. The auction showcases Feingold's evolution as an artist, from her early works inspired by vintage imagery to her later pieces that drew from her own photographs and personal connections with her subjects. Her paintings are a testament to her commitment to celebrating the individuality and the stories of the women she depicted. The "Fahren Feingold Ethereal Legacy" auction is a tribute to her trailblazing spirit and unwavering commitment to empowering women through her art.

Represented by The Untitled Space since 2017, Feingold's work has been featured in numerous solo exhibitions, group shows, and benefits. Her art is part of many notable international collections and has captivated global audiences while sparking important discussions about the representation of women in art. Feingold's artistic journey was marked by a fearless exploration of the female form, challenging centuries of censorship and shaming surrounding the female body. From her early days, Feingold's work stood out for its unapologetic depiction of the female nude, advocating for a more inclusive representation of women in art. Through her art, she gave voice to women of the past and present, exploring the complexities of female identity and the ongoing struggle for equality.

Tragically, Fahren Feingold was diagnosed with colon cancer in July 2023 at the age of 43 and passed away on September 26, 2023, just weeks after her diagnosis, leaving behind a legacy of creativity, innovation, and empowerment. Her art continues to inspire and captivate audiences worldwide, reminding us of the enduring power of the female gaze and the importance of continuing her fight for women's equality and representation.

Colorectal cancer is the fourth most commonly diagnosed cancer in the U.S. and the second leading cause of cancer death, despite the fact that it can be prevented with screening and is highly treatable when detected early. The American Cancer Society estimates 152,810 new cases and 53,010 deaths in 2024. Each year, about 150,000 Americans are diagnosed, and over 50,000 die from the disease, with a 1 in 24 lifetime risk. Approximately 10% of cases occur in those under 50, and this group is experiencing a 1-2% annual increase, making colorectal cancer the deadliest cancer among young men and the second deadliest among young women. With over 1.5 million survivors, early detection and treatment remain crucial in combating this preventable and treatable cancer across all age groups.

The Colorectal Cancer Alliance, founded in 1999 by 41 survivors, caregivers, and friends, is the nation's leading non-profit dedicated to ending colorectal cancer through advocacy for prevention, provision of support services, and acceleration of research, having invested over $5 million to date. With a passionate network of allies, the organization builds programs to support patients, increase screening rates, and guide thousands annually through patient navigation, working to eliminate this disease within our lifetime by raising awareness, promoting early detection, and funding innovative research to prevent and cure colorectal cancer.

Through this benefit art auction, we honor Fahren Feingold's legacy and her unwavering commitment to empowering others through her art, while raising awareness and funds to support the fight against colorectal cancer. By celebrating her artistic vision and supporting this important cause, her artwork continues to make a lasting impact.

"Hosting this benefit art auction in honor of Fahren Feingold holds profound significance for me. Fahren's work has always celebrated the beauty and strength of the human spirit, and through this auction, we continue her legacy by supporting the fight against colon cancer. Raising funds for this cause is not just about research and treatment, but about hope and solidarity. Every piece of art sold brings us closer to a world where colon cancer is a thing of the past, and every contribution made in Fahren's memory honors her incredible talent and compassion." - Indira Cesarine

About Fahren Feingold

Fahren Feingold (September 19, 1980 – September 26, 2023) was a visionary artist whose captivating watercolor paintings redefined the depiction of femininity in contemporary art. Born in San Francisco and raised in Los Angeles, Feingold exhibited a prodigious talent for art from a young age. At seventeen, she moved to New York City to study at Parsons School of Design after winning the best artist award at her high school, the Crossroads School for Arts & Sciences in Santa Monica.

Feingold's artistic journey began in the world of fashion design, where she honed her creative skills working for esteemed brands such as Ralph Lauren, Nicole Miller, and J.Crew. However, it was her transition from fashion to fine art that marked a pivotal moment in her career. In 2016, her artwork caught the eye of the legendary Nick Knight, who commissioned her for SHOWstudio. That same year, her work was featured at The Untitled Space in the group show

"LIFEFORCE" curated by Kelsey and Remy Bennett. From that point on, she dedicated herself fully to her passion for painting, embarking on a journey that would leave an indelible mark on the art world.

Her watercolors, inspired by vintage imagery and infused with a modern sensibility, challenge societal norms and celebrate the beauty of the female form. With her distinctive style characterized by delicate, ethereal watercolors and bold brushstrokes, Feingold quickly garnered attention and acclaim. Her paintings, often exploring themes of femininity, sensuality, and female empowerment, captivated audiences worldwide. Vogue hailed her as "a trailblazing artist on a meteoric rise," recognizing her profound influence on contemporary art.

Represented by The Untitled Space since 2017, Feingold was featured in over 30 exhibitions presented by the gallery including seven solo shows: "FAHREN FEINGOLD" (2017), "PEEP SHOW" (2018), "Golden Touch" (2018), "HIGH ON LIFE" (2021), "WET DREAMS" (2021), "LIVING FOR LOVE" (2023), and "ETHEREAL LEGACY" (2024).

Other notable exhibitions included the gallery's group shows "REBEL," "INNOVATE," "BODY BEAUTIFUL," "IRL: Investigating Reality," "ONE YEAR OF RESISTANCE," "SECRET GARDEN," "UPRISE / ANGRY WOMEN," SPRING/BREAK Art Show Special Projects "(Hotel) XX" and "EDEN," "Art4Equality x SaveArtSpace," "Moving Kate," curated by Nick Knight for SHOWstudio in London and The Mass in Tokyo; "The Vulgar" at The Barbican in London, curated by Judith Clark and Adam Phillips; "Red Hot Wicked" at Studio C Gallery in Los Angeles, "Les Femmes" at Tethy's Art in Southampton, NY curated by Indira Cesarine, and Sotheby's "Take Home A Nude" supporting the New York Academy of Art.

Tragically, Fahren Feingold's life was cut short by cancer on September 26, 2023, at the age of 43, leaving behind a legacy of creativity, innovation, and empowerment. Her art continues to inspire and captivate audiences worldwide, reminding us of the enduring power of the female gaze. Feingold's legacy lives on, a testament to the transformative power of creativity and the lasting impact of one woman's artistic vision.

"Opening my eyes to the beauty and love that exists within me and around, my paintings act as a quiet dagger of truth, exposing the beauty of the feminine form from the female gaze, emphasizing the female body as a great thing to behold, free of judgment and objectification. My paintings of the female figure expand the footprint of women painted by women, celebrating sisterhood and empowering female themes." – Artist Fahren Feingold, from her artist statement for her last exhibition, "LIVING FOR LOVE" (2023).

"This Trailblazing Artist is on a Meteoric Rise" - Vogue

"She's all about girl power. Feingold wants to empower and question wider issues, such as female constructs within the contemporary landscape." - Forbes

"Fahren Feingold's paintings bloom and radiate with ethereal energy." Vice

"Fahren Feingold captures the space where the ethereal meets the erotic...Her artwork is an attempt to undo the centuries of censorship, shaming, and patriarchal politics that cloud the simple beauty of a naked body." - Huffington Post

"Her artistry will forever be remembered as a bold and colorful statement on femininity and empowerment, while also being a vehicle toward disrupting patriarchal notions around the female body." GirlTalkHQ

"Fahren's untimely passing left a void in the art world. However, her artistic legacy lives on through her captivating works that continue to inspire and captivate." LA TIMES

About The Colorectal Cancer Alliance

<https://colorectalcancer.org/>

The Colorectal Cancer Alliance is the nation's leading nonprofit dedicated to colorectal cancer. Together with a nation of passionate allies, we advocate for prevention, magnify support, and accelerate research to end this disease. We exist to end colorectal cancer in our lifetime. To do it, we're advocating for screening, magnifying support and accelerating research with our nation of allies - volunteers, donors, advocates, and you. 1 out of every 10 people diagnosed with colorectal cancer is diagnosed under the age of 50. In fact, in the past decade, the incidence rate of colorectal cancer in those under 50 has nearly doubled. We're working to change that statistic. Together, we're increasing awareness, building a community, and learning more about young-onset colorectal cancer. As the largest nonprofit dedicated to this disease, we empower a nation of allies who are overcoming colorectal cancer in their lives and communities.

About The Untitled Space

<https://untitled-space.com>

The Untitled Space, founded by artist and curator Indira Cesarine in 2015, is a contemporary art gallery located in Tribeca, New York City. The gallery is dedicated to showcasing groundbreaking, interdisciplinary art that challenges conventions and sparks dialogue. Known for its dynamic exhibitions featuring emerging and established artists, The Untitled Space fosters a unique environment where art and culture intersect. With a strong focus on feminist and socially conscious themes, the gallery continually pushes the boundaries of contemporary art, creating a platform for artists to engage with critical global issues and inspire change. The Untitled Space artists and exhibitions have been featured in Vogue (US), Vogue Italia, The New York Times, Forbes, Newsweek, W Magazine, Harper's Bazaar, Teen Vogue, New York Magazine, i-D Magazine, Dazed, CNN Style and The Huffington Post among many other international publications.

Register to bid online and preview the auction lots from 12 PM EST on June 19, 2024, online at untitled-space.art.

Don't miss this opportunity to acquire unique pieces by this trailblazing artist whose work continues to inspire and empower.

For more information or any questions, please visit The Untitled Space

Auction Contacts:

The Untitled Space info@untitled-space.com

Auction Weblink: <https://untitled-space.art>

Gallery Website: <https://untitled-space.com>

Colorectal Cancer Alliance: <https://colorectalcaner.org>