NEW YORK, August 20, 2026—Gagosian is pleased to announce an exhibition of new work by Jordan Wolfson at 555 West 24th Street in New York. This is the artist's first exhibition with the gallery in New York.

A selection of new uniformly scaled sculptures incorporates emblematic color and black-and-white photographs, sourced online and from personal and academic archives, that resonate with art history, popular culture, and Wolfson's own preoccupations.

A conversation between the artist and novelist Ottessa Moshfegh will appear in the Fall 2026 issue of Gagosian Quarterly.
